PROFESSIONAL LICENSURE NOTES
All 50 states require Paramedics to pass either a state or national registry examination. Twenty-four states participate in the Unisted States Emergency Medical Services Compact. All 50 states accept results from the Natonal Registry examination. Some states require that a particular body accredit the EMS program. Examples of licensure or registry application requirements (among others) may include submission of an official college transcript, a Social Security number, a photo ID, driver's license, or passport. Some states require criminal background checks and fingerprinting. Final determination of individual state requirements for licensure or registry can only be confirmed by that state's governing body. North Carolina does not participate in the USEMS Compact. The NC Office of Emergency Medical Services accepts both NC and National Registry examinations. https://info.ncdhhs.gov/dhsr/EMS/ems.htm Sandhills Community College Emergency Medical Science program is accredited by the Commission of Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs. Graduates of our program may be eligible to take NC and/or National Registry examinations. To easily find professional registry and licensure requirements in other states, visit https://www.emscompact.gov/, https://www.nremt.org/document/certification_licensure
