Welcome to the first issue of Sandhills Community College’s brand new publication, flightPath. Over the past several years, we have produced items throughout the year to let you know about our programs, classes and special events going on at the college. We have merged the various publications and are excited to bring you flightPath.

Why flightPath? If you have ever visited our campus for a class, a concert or to enjoy our gardens, inevitably you have heard airplanes overhead as they approached the nearby Moore County Airport. Although many graduation ceremonies and Jazz Band outdoor concerts have had to pause as the planes roared overhead, we have come to embrace the sound. It is a gentle reminder that SCC provides a flight path, a planned route for those seeking training and education that can lead to incredible new futures. With this in mind, we thought it important to offer a new comprehensive guide detailing the possibilities of how you can become part of our college community.

So that you experience no delays in planning your own SCC flightPath, we have included everything you need to know to make us your community college. Whether you want to enroll in curriculum or Continuing Education classes, take in a Ruth Pauley lecture, cheer on our Lady Flyers, enjoy a concert or even audition for a musical theatre production, this edition of flightPath provides all the important academic and event information happening on campus from July through December. Please keep it on hand as a reference — Issue Two will be flying your way in early December. Enjoy!

Who’s the Voice?

Putting a Face With the Pleasant Voice on the Line

Have you been able to figure out whose voice is that of the horse Hanna Davis converses with on the beach in the new DirectTV commercials? Or have you ever wondered who is the voice of Siri? We don’t want you to wonder about the voices you hear when you call Sandhills.

Phone calls to the college are not answered by impersonal answering systems, or by talking horses for that matter, but by pleasant, friendly employees who take great pride in helping others.

Sometimes callers inquire about a program or class, need directions to campus or want to know more about a show in Owens Auditorium. Other times calls are less conventional – “Can you tell me what date is Mother’s Day this year.” These employees are prepared for all of your questions – or are ready to connect you with the people who can help.

Regina Ritter

In June, Regina Ritter passed her 20-year mark at Sandhills. Before becoming the Telecommunications Services Coordinator 12 years ago, she worked part-time in the evenings answering phones, worked a few years in the college bookstore and returned to the switchboard as a full-time operator and receptionist.

Regina says she loves being able to interact with and assist students – but anyone who knows her can attest to the fact that her most favorite thing to do is spend time with her two granddaughters. Regina also likes to refinish furniture and make crafts.

Charlotte Tomeski

One of the perkiest voices answering calls at Sandhills for the past 12 years belongs to Charlotte Tomeski. Amazingly, she knows practically every extension on campus by memory.

One of the things Charlotte likes the most about her job as receptionist at the switchboard is being able to help others by providing information about campus services.

When she is not at work, Charlotte enjoys cooking, taking her dog, Monty, for walks and spending time with her family.

Tara Taylor

In 2001 Tara Taylor was a student at Sandhills. She was employed through the Financial Aid Work Study program in the Development Office and at the Switchboard. The college recognized Tara’s talents brought her on as an employee.

“I really enjoy working with the faculty, staff, students and community by assisting and helping them in a respectful and courteous manner.”

When not working, Tara enjoys spending time with her family, especially her granddaughter, and loves the challenge of a good puzzle.

Lindsay Miller

In addition to being the front line voice in Student Services Lindsay Miller can also be found teaching an online Public Speaking class at Sandhills. She has worked at the college for six years. “I like meeting prospective students and listening to their stories and reasons for choosing Sandhills. I also like being the bearer of good news and...”
Kimberly Aliago

After 11 years in Student Services, Kimberly Aliago has had one title, Admissions Associate, but has worn many hats. In addition to fielding calls with Linsday Miller for curriculum programs, she teaches new students how to use WebAdvisor, assists with residency determinations and enters transcript information into the database.

Kimberly says the best part of her job is helping students to work towards their goals. She carefully listens to and helps them get the resources and information they need.

Kimberly is also a Notary Public and makes jewelry in her spare time.

Lynn Joyner

Beginning as an evening receptionist/secretary to the Dean of Continuing Education Harlan McCaskill 31 years ago, Lynn Joyner truly enjoys assisting people.

At one time she was a secretary for the Small Business Center and is now a Program Associate in Continuing Education.

Lynn lives a low-key life; enjoying movies, her family, the mountains and puzzles. She is looking forward to retiring at the end of the year.

Rose George

As one of the helpful voices you will hear when you call the Continuing Education registration line, Rose George strives to provide exceptional customer service to potential and current students. With almost five years of SCC experience, Rose is one of the front-office program associates who answers incoming calls and helps students register for classes.

Rose admits working at Sandhills for the past five years has flown by because of the supportive, family-like atmosphere on campus. “Everyone on campus really cares about their coworkers and students,” she says.

Rose enjoys working one-on-one with students because as a first generation college student, she knows first-hand the value of education and often times, how intimidating those first few steps to enrollment can feel.

When not at work, she is active in the local equestrian community and enjoys spending time at the beach or outside around the campfire with her two daughters and close friends.

Diane Reynolds

If you phone the Sandhills Hoke Center, Diane Reynolds is likely to take your call. Diane can probably answer just about any question — she has worked at the college for 18 years.

As the youngest of 10 children, Diane was the first in her family to graduate from college. She is accustomed to a variety of tasks and responsibilities. In addition to her switchboard duties, she is also a Criminal Justice instructor. She loves teaching and likes to help make a difference in the lives of her students.

Diane has two sons and is a happy YaYa of two darling little girls. In addition to enjoying time with her family, Diane is a do-it-yourselfer when it comes to arts and crafts and grows an impressive garden.

Fall Semester Holiday Closings

Monday, September 7 – Labor Day
Wednesday, November 11 – Veterans Day
November 26 & 27 – Thanksgiving
December 24 and 25 – Christmas
January 1 – New Years Day
You don't have to go to a major university, spend years upon years in college or have lots of letters after your name to get into the healthcare profession. Sandhills has a huge variety of options. Most of the health care programs we offer through Continuing Education can be completed in as little as four months and several hold classes only two evenings per week. Our curriculum diploma programs can take only one year to complete and associate degree programs can be completed in two years. If you want to go on to earn a bachelor’s degree in Nursing, UNC-P teaches the courses you will need to take on our campus.

Even better than the short time it takes to become trained, employment locally, throughout the state and even nationwide is on the rise.

Best of all, it will not cost you an astronomical amount of money to attend Sandhills. We can help you apply for financial aid and Sandhills awards over $500,000 each year in scholarships.

If you are interested in any of our Continuing Education programs, contact Lori Degre at degrel@sandhills.edu or (910) 695-3939. For all others, it may be best if you refer to our website for all information and the contact person for each program is given. Just call or email that person if you wish to explore further.
The Career Training Department is a perfect resource for adult learners who want to improve workplace skills, achieve job certification or recertification, improve employment marketability, or explore new opportunities.

Career Training courses meet the criteria for Continuing Education Units (CEUs). All Career Training courses are Lifelong Learning Institute eligible.

For additional information, contact Lori Degre at (910) 695-3939 or degrel@sandhills.edu.

Certified Production Technician (CPT)
The Certified Production Technician (CPT) program is designed to train students for mastery of manufacturing production systems and minor manufacturing equipment maintenance and repair as specified by the Manufacturers’ Skills Standards Council. The course will prepare the student to compete for four MSSC certifications: Safety, Quality Practices and Measurement, Manufacturing Processes and Production, and Maintenance Awareness leading to the comprehensive CPT credential. The program also prepares students for higher paying jobs.
This program is endorsed as a quality training program for potential entry-level employment by Unilever HPC in Raeford and Coty, Inc. in Sanford. Seeing this as his opportunity to launch his career, Nick immediately applied and was hired as a full time welder at Caterpillar.

Electrical Apprenticeship
After completing the Certified Production Technician (CPT) program at Sandhills and securing employment at Cascade in an industrial maintenance position, Joe was driven to go even further with his career. He successfully completed the Electrical Level 1 class and moved on to Level 2 in order to advance further at Cascade. In addition to a solid career, Joe is also proud that he has become a good role model for his young son.

Production Technician
As an older student facing lengthy unemployment and a set of challenging personal circumstances, Derrick enrolled in the CPT program. He took the Work Keys assessment and earned his Career Readiness Certificate in an effort to increase his chances of landing a good job. Derrick successfully completed the CPT program and received a job offer from Pactiv Tray Pads & Packaging. His perseverance turned his dream into a reality and now he is pleased he is able to assist his aging mother.

The Rise & Fall of Pop Music & Rock ‘n’ Roll
After World War II, Pop music dominated radio airwaves and jukeboxes. Johnny Ray, Jo Stafford, Dean Martin, and other artists dominated Your Hit Parade until Rock ‘n’ Roll challenged that dominance in the mid-1950s. Through music and video, Dr. John Turner presents the artists and songs we love, putting them in context by examining their impact on sexual attitudes, family, segregation/integration, the economy and religion. It’s a fun time of music, videos and stories exploring the singers and songs of the late 1940s, the 1950s and the 1960s.

Creative Living: Mutual Fund Investing
Our Creative Living courses may be of interest to LLI members.
Living the Good Life: Dutch Society in the Golden Age
During the 17th century, the Dutch enjoyed a comfortable middle class life style supported by a thriving mercantile economy and national ideals of a good family and a functioning republic. Simon Schama, in his cultural history entitled The Embarrassment of Riches, explores a conflict in the national conscience between a love of feasting, the accumulation of beautiful things, and the strictures of Calvinist virtues like piety, hard work, and thrift. Using images by well-known artists, Dutch social beliefs and behavior will be discussed, as well as their uneasiness with good fortune.

www.sandhills.edu/coned/
The mission of the Small Business Center at Sandhills Community College is to increase the success rate and numbers of viable small businesses in North Carolina by providing high quality, readily accessible assistance to prospective and existing small business owners that will lead to job creation and retention.

The NC Community College’s Small Business Center Network assists in starting an average of more than 600 businesses each year. Small Business Centers have an economic impact in 90% of all NC Counties each year, helping to create and retain nearly 3,000 jobs annually.

Seminars
The Small Business Center offers free seminars targeted for the needs of small business owners and startups. Specific seminars for transitioning military are also offered. Register for free seminars by visiting our website at www.sandhills.edu/sbc, calling (910) 695-3980 or email williamslo@sandhills.edu.

Resources
A computer in our resource center is available for your use and we will help you locate information you need for your business. We have access to the NC Live database leading you to a demographic data profiler called Simply Map to assist you in defining your market. We also have information on area businesses and numerous books and magazines and will assist you in obtaining a free Boyd Library membership for additional resources.

Counseling
For free one on one counseling services, if you would like information about starting a business or to discuss specific needs regarding your business, please call Lori Williams at (910) 695-3938 or email williamslo@sandhills.edu. Licenses, Recordkeeping and Tax Issues for Small Businesses-the Boring Part
Many businesses require permits and licenses from local, county, state and even federal agencies. Federal and State tax requirements are not the only reason to keep good, up-to-date records in your business. While the last thing you want to do is have the IRS or State Department of Revenue hassling you, good recordkeeping habits will allow you to focus on generating revenue rather than worrying about catching up on your bookkeeping. Both new and existing business owners will benefit from this seminar.

Sharon Holliday

When Gulistan Carpets closed its doors, Sharon Holliday had worked at the Aberdeen plant for 19 years. She came to Sandhills with plans to re-enter the job market in the health care field. She took refresher courses through the College and Career Readiness department plus several Career Development classes. Sharon achieved her certification as a Nurse Aide.

Now happily employed, Sharon says, “I really enjoy caring for the elderly. I really wish I would have done it sooner. I am now a state-certified Nurse Aide thanks to the staff at Sandhills.”

Sharon was photographed with Shelley Louya, one of her instructors in the Nurse Aide program.

High School Equivalency Diploma (HSE)

Designed for adults who did not complete a high school education. Classes will prepare students for the four HSE tests in social studies, literacy, math and science.

Earning College Credits While Still in High School

Six months after graduating from high school, 18-year-old Arren Sevigny completed an Associate in Science degree.

Arren is one of the many high school students who have taken advantage of the NC Career and College Promise (CCP) program which allows high school juniors and seniors take curriculum (college credit) classes free of charge.

This talented and determined student, who earned a 3.941 GPA at Sandhills, has been home-educated since fifth grade. This fall he heads to the College of the Holy Cross in Worcester, MA on a full tuition scholarship and half his room and board covered.

“I want to double major in Biology and Music, then go to medical school to become a radiologist,” Arren reports.

Arren started at Sandhills in January 2013, in what would have been his junior year of high school. “My mom was doing a terrific job teaching but she pointed out we didn't have science labs in our house,” Arren says with a laugh.

“We had heard that home-schooled students could take classes at Sandhills to supplement their learning so we decided to check it out,” says Arren’s dad.

Arren and his parents talked to Director of Admissions Cary Greene and discovered that he absolutely was eligible to enroll for courses. Later, it became apparent that his classes could lead to earning an associate degree.

Arren adjusted very well at Sandhills. “When I started classes, I wasn’t sure what to expect,” he admits. “But never once did I feel out of place at Sandhills. It’s a very welcoming campus, including the instructors who were always willing to help.”

His level of skill and academic accomplishments led him to become a math tutor at the college.

Preparing for college is just one of the many benefits Arren feels he gained from his experience at Sandhills. “I found out what it was like to be in a classroom again, a good transition before moving away to college,” he said. “I’m leaving for college with more confidence, that’s for sure.”

College Options for High School Students

Home-educating students like Arren can begin taking college credit courses at Sandhills as long as they are at least a high school junior.

If one has earned a High School Equivalency diploma, they can enroll in classes as early as age 16.

Juniors and Seniors in Moore or Hoke County public or private high schools and home schoolers are eligible to enroll in the CCP program. There are a multitude of technical and college transfer pathways in CCP.

The Sandhoke Early College High School program for Hoke County residents begins in ninth grade and after five years of high school and SCC curriculum courses, successful graduates are awarded a high school diploma as well as an associate’s degree.
Free Tutoring is available to our students in the Kelly Tutoring Center located in Logan Hall.

One-on-one help from volunteers or peer tutors help our students become responsible learners by helping them stay on track, assisting them in understanding assignments and offering ways to improve study skills.

Sandhills Community College promises that no deserving student will be denied a college education because of inability to pay.
STEM Studies Pay Off for SCC Student

Stephanie Smith of Southern Pines has reason to be happy with her decision to attend Sandhills Community College after graduating from Pinecrest High School in 2014.

“I wasn’t exactly sure what field I wanted to study and I thought Sandhills would be a good place to narrow down my choice of majors,” she says. “Plus, earning a two-year degree at a community college before going to a four-year university is a great way to save money.”

When Stephanie entered Sandhills in the fall of 2014, she knew she wanted to begin studies in math and sciences. “I wasn’t sure if I wanted to go to med school or be a veterinarian or a scientist. I started taking general education courses as well as biology, physics and chemistry,” she says.

As she completed her second semester at Sandhills, earning a 4.0 GPA, she narrowed down her choices. “Now I know I want to be an engineer, either a biomedical, chemical or aerospace engineer,” she says. “After I earn my associate degree at Sandhills, I want to go on to NC State which has an excellent engineering program.”

Now Stephanie has another reason to be pleased with her higher education plan. In April she was notified that she would be receiving a NC Space Grant Community College Scholarship in the amount of $5,000 for the 2015-16 academic year at Sandhills. This scholarship is part of NASAs National Space Grant College and Fellowship Program.

“I received the email telling me about the award. I was thrilled and told my parents right away,” says Stephanie, daughter of Neal Smith and Brenda Smith. “Dad texted the entire family, of course, and the congratulations messages started coming in.”

The NC Space Grant Community College Scholarship program is exactly for students like Stephanie who are earning a two-year degree at a community college before transferring to a four-year university to continue their studies in a STEM – science, technology, engineering, or math – field.

Stephanie says Sandhills has been a good transition between high school and moving away to a four-year university. “Going away to college is a big change in lifestyle and academics,” she says. “Attending Sandhills first has saved me a ton of money and best of all has helped me narrow down my choices. Now when I go to NC State, I will be more focused.”

What Students Say About Sandhills
Quotes from our most recent Curriculum Student Survey

I’m really impressed with Student Services. Anyone can gain information, participate in programs and become a part of the college experience.

Great school, and wonderful environment.

All areas provide excellent support in the education process.

Keep doing your thing. You guys are awesome!

Student Services is a great help! They answered every single question I had when I first came to Sandhills.

I’m involved with Project Promise and the staff is very helpful.

Whenever I need help I always get directed to the person that can help me the most.

Curriculum
FALL SEMESTER CLASSES

On the next few pages you will find a list of the curriculum classes we are offering for fall semester. The semester begins on August 17 and Mini-Mester begins on September 23.

Curriculum classes are open to both non-degree and degree-seeking students. If you are taking classes in order to earn a degree, diploma or certificate, you must be at least 16 years old, have a high school diploma and meet the required prerequisite classes.

If you are seeking a degree, you will start by taking a placement test in order that you begin in the proper level class.

For course times, locations, instructors, and prerequisites please refer to “Course Schedule” at www.sandhills.edu.

If you have not taken a distance learning or hybrid course at Sandhills since January 2011, please go to: myssc.sandhills.edu and read the guides for distance learning students before signing up for an Internet Course.

The employees of Sandhills Community College hold veteran students and their families close to their hearts. This passion for serving our veterans starts at the top and is evident throughout the college. President John Dempsey is a Vietnam Navy veteran and practically every staff and faculty member has served or has family who has or presently serves our country.

In recent academic years, the college has served over 400 veterans, spouses and their children each year who are using VA education benefits to take curriculum courses. This is quite an increase from the 100 the college served only six years ago.

Veterans and dependents who receive veterans benefits are sure to know VA Certifying Official Teresa Taylor. She has been instrumental in the creation of a new veteran’s waiting area, which is a comfortable space for students to stop in, relax, chat and enjoy a cup of coffee. A local Air Force veteran artist, Douglas Rowe, created artwork for the center. “It was important for us to include all the service flags so that students immediately feel welcomed as they enter the area,” said Teresa. “In addition, we included a memorial piece because so many of our veteran students have lost close friends and family in recent wars.”

Teresa has also been key in securing regular visits by the VA Mobile Vet Center as it travels throughout North Carolina. Through this mobile center, veteran students and dependents are assisted with many non-academic support services.

Veteran students may be eligible for federal and/or state financial aid in addition to their education benefits. Sandhills is one of four NC community colleges to participate in the Veterans Administration’s Yellow Ribbon program, which assists qualifying veteran students with college funds to help with the cost of out-of-state tuition.

Each year the college has a free Veterans Day concert in Owens Auditorium. Student Life also honors veterans and dependents with a free breakfast and social prior to the holiday. Additionally, the college has a veteran student club in the works.

A new red, white and blue graduation cord was offered to veteran graduates and many wore them at our most recent commencement ceremony.

The Small Business Center and Veterans

The SCC Small Business Center is instrumental in educating local small businesses on the value of hiring veterans and passing along military issues to small businesses. Through the Veteran Employment Program, SBC Director Lori Williams holds educational sessions and presentations for business owners on the NC Veterans Employment Program. She also keeps small business owners abreast of veteran initiatives and associated benefits such as NCWorks and MilitaryPipeline matching credentials for employment.

Lori also helps transition veterans into entrepreneurial roles through associations with Boots 2 Business, Veteran’s Business Outreach, the Small Business Administration and the North Carolina Military Business Center.

The 3M “Hire Our Heroes” program, in partnership with the Collision Repair Education Foundation, provides tool grants and assistance to military veterans. Sandhills student Roland Woolett was awarded $3,000 to purchase tools for his studies and career in autobody repair.

“When you have your own repair tools, you are much more likely to land a job,” says Woolett, a veteran of the US Army.

“One is our third year of providing this type of support to our military veterans and their family member,” said Dale Ross, 3M U.S. Marketing Operations Manager Automotive Aftermarket Division. “We hope to continue to attract veterans to our industry, and help those that choose this career path get the tools and training they need to be successful.”

Landscaping Annex Named For Valued Employee & Distinguished Alumni

When you're honored with your name on a building at Sandhills Community College, you must be quite special. A 1974 graduate of the SCC Landscape Gardening program, Andy J. Thompson, was recognized recently with his name given to the new Landscaping Annex building on campus.

Andy worked at Sandhills for 37 years until his retirement in April. His commitment to high professional standards and to an extraordinary level of customer service made him one of the most valued employees in the history of the college. College President John Dempsey said, “The fact that Sandhills is recognized as having one of the state's most beautiful campuses is directly attributable to Andy's knowledge, skills, and efforts.”

Andy also was named the 2015 SCC Distinguished Alumnus, an honor given to a Sandhills alumnus each year who has made substantial contributions for the good of others and has served as a motivational force for those in their profession and community. Andy was the guest speaker at the college's May 16 commencement ceremony.

The North Carolina Community College System is among the most comprehensive in the nation, with 58 institutions enrolling more than 800,000 students each year.

Our Annual Scholarship Golf Tournament

On September 1 the courses at Pine Needles and Mid Pines Golf Club will see golfers of all ages and abilities golfing, socializing, having fun and, most importantly, supporting our students.

Funds raised through our annual golf tournament are used for up to 30 scholarships each year plus scholarships for our High School Equivalence program graduates if they choose to continue their education at Sandhills.

The tournament is made possible through the very generous support of Aberdeen Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Pine Needles Resort and Golf Club and South Atlantic Galvanizing. In addition to generous gifts, treats and prizes, participants are treated to breakfast by Panera Bead, a Bonefish Grill lunch and beverages provided by Aberdeen Coca-Cola and R.A Jeffreys Distributing Company.

This is always a great day for the college and our students. If you would like to participate, please contact Jennifer Dail at (910) 695-3712 or dailj@sandhills.edu.

The Graduate Walk

You can pay special tribute to a graduate or recognize your own accomplishment with a brick in the SCC Graduate Walk. The Graduate Walk is centrally located in the area graduates pass over each year at commencement.

Laser-engraved with name, degree and year, the brick becomes a permanent part of our campus. Bricks are available for a $100 tax deductible contribution to the SCC Alumni Association. Contact Jennifer Dail at (910) 695-3712 or dailj@sandhills.edu to purchase a brick.
